About Us

"Great things are done by a series of small things brought together."* –

Vincent Van Gogh

Arts and Souls Foundation stands as a beacon of inclusion and creativity. We firmly believe that every individual, regardless of their abilities, possesses a unique gift waiting to be shared with the world.

Our academy is a nurturing haven where individuals, particularly those with autism and other special needs, discover and express their artistic talents. Through art therapy many of our students experienced enhanced physical, mental, and emotional well-being.

Our students have developed and sold a range of art-based products ranging from paintings, planters and home décor products. We believe in empowering these young artists to gain valuable skills that can help them achieve financial independence.

Over the past decade we have we have hosted many events and exhibitions which gave our artists an avenue to showcase their artistic prowess. Our artists have also participated in many group exhibitions and their artworks have been appreciated by corporates and individuals across the globe.

Abhirup Ghosh

Abhirup, a 17-year-old navigating life on the autism spectrum, derives joy from music, drumming, swimming and skating. He has passionately delved into the realm of art, producing not only intriguing but also emotionally resonant works that offer glimpses into the intricate inner worlds of an autistic teenager.

His artistic journey took a public turn with a debut exhibition in September 2023 at Le Meridian, New Delhi, followed by another in October 2023 at Ambience Mall, Gurugram. Attendees were captivated by the vitality of Abhirup's creations, resulting in a swift purchase of nearly all his paintings. These exhibitions, hopefully, mark just the inception of a series, where Abhirup's burgeoning artistic prowess and fervor can continue to be showcased. Art, for him, serves as a profound means of expression, enabling him to convey the inexpressible, embrace his unique identity and flourish.

Ansh Batra

ANSH, a young boy, who has been diagnosed with Autism is an abstract expressionism.

He loves colours, his strokes are confident and yet reflect a certain gay abandon for him, the canvas are his playground and colours are his friends. He has been painting from last 5 years and exhibited several times and has won various art competitions. The transition from no one to someone was not easy it took lots of persistence and hardwork. The 2020 gave us the whole new world when we all were sitting at home but Ansh got time to brush his skills. It's a ongoing journey from "why us to why not".

Ansh is a bright and happy teenager full of energy his strokes reflect the same. Art has given him self-esteem. Art channelizes his energy and gives him language of his own.

Khushii Kohli

KHUSHII, is a young girl on the autism spectrum and epilepsy. She channelises her creativity in art. What she is unable to express in words, she does so through easels, brushes and colours. Her abstract paintings are a medium for her to connect with herself and the outside world. Her paintings reflect her mind, body and soul. She loves to make abstracts through varied tools, ranging from sponge, thread, balls, spoons, knife to anything she lays her eyes on. Her work adorns the walls of some corporates and has received a lot of appreciation from friends and families. Besides art, she loves to skate, play basketball. She would have made an excellent gymnast if given an opportunity.
